Position Statement

I asked for your support three years ago because I was outraged over the firing of Joe Paterno. At the time, though I did not realize, I should have also been equally outraged over the handling of the employment of Graham Spanier, Tim Curley, and Gary Schultz. The leadership demonstrated by these four men throughout their more than 125 years of combined service to Penn State was visionary. Penn State grew in stature both academically and athletically during their tenure, and we have been hard pressed to replace their leadership.

After the past three years, I more fully understand the reason Coach Paterno stayed at Penn State for 61 years. And, it is simple—all of you. As I travel around this country, I am inspired by so many of you. Your love for Penn State and who WE ARE is very clear.

I am proud to once more have the support of Penn Staters for Responsible Stewardship. I again ask for yours.

This election is once again about governance. Our leaders failed us on November 9, 2011 and they continue to fail us almost 3 ½ years later. Their unwillingness to defend our great school and its culture is evident. Moreover, the lack of transparency and accountability in the way they conduct business must change. Reform is needed. We deserve better.

My commitment to you is that I will continue to be more than they have been; I will be FULLY engaged in the business of Penn State.
